AMERICAN CETACEAN SOCIETY

Dear Friend of Whales and Dolphins,

The American Cetacean Society is proud to present our whale and dolphin Fact Packs. These exceptional values contain concise information about whales and dolphins on easy to read fact sheets. Each sheet provides information on one species, including: distribution map, feeding, biology and behavior. All fact sheets have been reviewed for accuracy by experts in the fields of marine biology and marine mammal research - accuracy is guaranteed.

The packets provide sufficient information for teachers to prepare instructional units about whales and for students to complete reports or papers. Each sheet also includes a bibliography for additional research. ACS grants you permission to copy the sheets provided they are distributed for free, are used for educational purposes and are not altered in any way.

We are sure you will find the information interesting and useful. Additional educational materials are shown on the back of this form.

Thank you.

The American Cetacean Society

ACS is the oldest non-profit whale organization in the world. Your purchase from this brochure will help preserve and protect whales and dolphins. Thank you for your support!
