

Sylvie Blais brings an artist's sensibility to her work in digital communication. A combination of technical and design skills from graphic art to video to photography and website construction holds her in good stead on whatever the project. In her spare time, she loves to spend time with her family and working on art as her orange tabby cat and her "big mutt" watch.

